Here is how the website will run

From the front page, anyone can upload a photo (this is not a contest, just a way to curate the best photos submitted from users)

1. Seclect a photo of a rad dog for Woof Warrior's October Contest
2. Select a few more to spice up the competition
3. Check out the gallery here, and don't forget to vote

File: Browse… No file selected.   Submit

We are stoked to see the photos of your dogs this Halloween! Woof Warrior will donate .10 cents for every photo submitted to the shelter sponsor, Max. Read more about the contest here

Here is what the gallery page looks like now (no voting or description

I would like to transform he page to iook like reddit, with only a thumbnail and a description

Main functionality
-Only upvotes
-Upvote disabled for specific picture when session has clicked(think of it has a go away survey when people use google wifi at starbucks)
-Number of votes would be nice

Any more questions?
